I found the passion and knowledge of Serena, Eolo and the art gallery curators proved to be a highlight of the trip. They gave both social and art historical context which afforded me a deeper understanding of the many exquisite paintings and sculptures. The absolute highlight was to see so many Caravaggios in situ. I knew he had worked in Sicily but didn't realise how many beautiful masterpieces he produced there. The whole of the art tour was a wonderful experience with stunning scenery, picturesque villages and authentically delicious Sicilian dining experiences. Our stay at the Sicilian House in the village of Polizzi Generosa was my favorite part of the trip. What a gem that turned out to be. Prepared to be wowed by local knowledge, celebrity neighbours and art treasures! Selena and Eolo are the perfect tour leaders. Great knowledge and wonderful people.

As I had dragged my wife along on golfing trips in Ireland, Scotland, and America, I felt obligated to accompany her when she suggested we join Serena and Eolo's Sicilian Art, Culture, and Food Tour. Given my elementary knowledge of ancient history—and even less of art—my expectations for enjoying the tour were low, although I was looking forward to the "food" portion of the trip! That assumption was quickly shattered. I soon became engrossed in the fascinating history of Sicily and how it was expressed through the art we viewed and the places we visited. Thanks to Serena and her gallery curator's deep knowledge, what could have been, for me, a string of boring churches, statues, and ruins instead came vividly to life. Byzantine, Greek, and Arab history were woven into the storytelling, turbocharging the experience. My eyes were opened to a whole new world. Add to this the authentic Sicilian accommodations, a group of diverse and interesting fellow travelers, a variety of splendid meals (I especially loved the street food), and the patience and charm of Serena and Eolo—and this tour became a truly life-enhancing experience.

Thank you Serena and Eolo for such an extraordinary experience - words simply can't do justice to your sense of artistry, dedication and love of your island home, your commitment to sharing your culture, history, landscape, and food (I am still digesting mentally and physically the Sicilian riches you presented to us). Thank you from the bottom of heart - I will always cherish our time together forever. This is not goodbye, it's arrivaderci until we meet again.
